"What is Job work? Section 2(68) of the CGST Act, 2017 defines job work as 'any treatment or process undertaken by a person on goods belonging to another registered person'. The one who does the said job would be termed as 'job worker'. The ownership of the goods does not transfer to the job worker but it rests with the principal. The job worker is required to carry out the process specified by the principal, on the goods."

With regard to IGST liability, Sec.13 of IGST Act, 2017 reads as under:-

13. (1) The provisions of this section shall apply to determine the place of supply of services where the location of the supplier of services or the location of the recipient of services is outside India.

(2) The place of supply of services except the services specified in sub-sections (3) to

(13) shall be the location of the recipient of services: Provided that where the location of the recipient of services is not available in the ordinary course of business, the place of supply shall be the location of the supplier of services.

(3) The place of supply of the following services shall be the location where the services are actually performed, namely:—

repairs and are exported after repairs without being put to any other use in India, than that which is required for such repairs;

(b) services supplied to an individual"

Facts of the case:

7. A foreign Company viz., HTH Hamburger Teehandel GmbH Im. & Export, Hamburg, Germany (herein after called the Principal) had entered into an agreement with the applicant-job worker on 20.07.2017 for undertaking the work of processing Tea i.e., super critical fluid extraction, the other way round called removing Caffeine from Tea, the raw material/packing material is supplied by the foreign Principal to the factory premises of the applicant-job worker, and after the process, the de-caffeinated tea will be exported to the Principal (i.e., to Germany) as per the instructions entered at the time of agreement.

Question No.1 for clarification:

- ❖ Whether the process of providing job work service to foreign customer as explained above is taxable under GST. Is such transaction attracts GST?

With regard to the process of providing job work service by the applicant to the foreign principal, shall be classified under the HSN Code services Heading 9988, which reads as under:

"9988 - Manufacturing services on physical inputs owned by others The services included under Heading 9988 are performed on physical inputs owned by units other than the units providing the service. As such, they are characterized as outsourced portions of a manufacturing process or a complete outsourced manufacturing process. Since this Heading covers manufacturing services, the output is not owned by the unit providing this service. Therefore, the value of the services in this Heading is based on the service fee paid, not the value of the goods manufactured."

Further, the process of providing job work service to the foreign customer, in the premises of the applicant as per the specifications of the recipient of services is taxable under APGST Act 2017, as per Entry No.26 (HSN Code 9988) Proviso (iv), and liable to tax @ 18%.

Question No.2 for clarification:

- ❖ If applicable to GST, whether they have to pay IGST or SGST+CGST?

As per the facts furnished by the applicants, the raw material and work material for the said job work are supplied by the foreign principal, and the applicant is undergoing processing of the product as per the specifications of the principal, and the final product is being exported as per the terms and conditions to the principal. This transaction is squarely falling under first limb of clause (a) of Sub-sec.3 to Sec.13 of IGST Act 2017 which reads as under:-

13. (1) The provisions of this section shall apply to determine the place of supply of services where the location of the supplier of services or the location of the recipient of services is outside India.

(3) The place of supply of the following services shall be the location where the services are actually performed, namely:—

(a) services supplied in respect of goods which are required to be made physically available by the recipient of services to the supplier of services, or

Hence, the place of supply for this transaction is location of the service where actually performed i.e., business premises of the applicant which is located in the State of Andhra Pradesh. Hence the tax liability under SGST Act/CGST Act 2017 only applies.

Question No.3 for clarification:

- ❖ Is the job work service provided by them is exempted from service tax under Mega exemption list as per Notification No. 25/2012 dated 20.06.2012 and not chargeable to GST?

As the Service Tax Act itself subsumed under Goods & Services Tax Act 2017, the Notification referred to, is no more applicable.
